TUESDAY, APRIL 13, 1819.

To the Editors of the Compiler.

GENTLEMEN:

On the 18th ultimo, I commenced multiplying manuscript copies with notes, &c. of the correspondence into which I was accidentially drawn in 1817, with Major General Jackson, intending to have made out some twenty copies in that shape, for the public. Before I had accomplished that intention, some friend, no doubt, availed himself of one of the first copies put into circulation, and caused it to be printed in a phamplet form: and it now appears, that the correspondence, from that impression, has found its way into several of the public papers. I confess, that, a circulation has thus been given to it, much greater than was expected or intended. The printed copies, which have fallen under my observation, are, however, with the exception of certain typographical errors, correct.

My present objects are to disavow the printing of the correspondence, and to recall the word "garbled," twice used in the address "To the Public."—Have the goodness to append hereto, the letter, and extract of a letter on which the charge and the recantation are respectively predicated.

I will barely add, that although the first letter appeared to have been cautiously written, I should immediately have desired my correspondent to re-examine the subject, but that I had reason to suppose, from himself, that he had left New-York soon after the date of this letter. The above retraction is voluntarily and cheerfully made.

I remain,
Messrs. Editors,
Your most obd't.
WINFIELD SCOTT.

April 9th, 1819.

Copy of a letter addressed to Major Gen. Scott, dated at New-York, March 2d, 1819.

DEAR GENERAL,

I trust you will excuse me for troubling you on this occasion, but I considered you might be ignorant of the circumstances I am about to mention, and perhaps they may be somewhat important.

General Jackson, during his late visit to this place, was at some trouble to cause to be widely distributed his correspondence with you. He left with a gentleman (late a lieut. col. in the army,) a copy—say of the anonymous letter, his letter to you, your reply, and his rejoinder, all certified by his A. D. C. This late lieut. colonel, has even, in conversation, proposed that it should be published; but I have understood that gen. Jackson was averse from this; but had no objection that it should be circulated in M. S.

This transaction; perhaps, makes no impression on your friends, which is at all disadvantageous; but I, in common with others, have conceived, that it is malevolent in intention, and that the efforts of many here will be exerted to support its mischievous spirit. If you are not already informed of this, some advantage may be reaped from knowing, that all this has been done with feelings and intentions full of animosity towards you.

I hope that you will excuse any thing which may appear intermedling or forward, as no one, dear general, can be more devotedly your friend, and well wisher, than, &c. &c. &c.

Extract of a letter addressed to Maj. General Scott, dated New-York, April 5th 1819.

"On one point of the subject, I discover with mortification, that I have misled you: In mine of the second of march, I made, it is true, a particular reference to the letters, copies of which were circulated in M. S. here. My accidental omission of the last of the series, has induced you to suppose, that the agents of Gen. Jackson had suppressed it. For this I am very sorry, and to atone to my own feelings, must state explicitly, that the whole series was included in the manuscript circulated here, and were true copies, I believe, of those now in print, with the certificate, in the common form of Capt. Call, an A. D. C."

New-York. March 6.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

The elegant packet ship James Munroe, Captain Watkinson, arrived this morning, in 36 days from Liverpool. In bringing her up from the Hook, in the night, the pilot run her aground; but she soon got off without sustaining the smallest injury.

By this arrival we are furnished by our London correspondent, with London papers and prices current to the 27th of Feb. inclusive, four days later than were before received. We have also Lloyd's lists to the 26th, and general shipping and commercial lists to the 27th; and a letter dated on the evening of the 27th.

It is stated, that most serious alarms prevailed on the Royal Exchange on the 26th, in consequence of the letters received that morning from Liverpool, stating the commercial distresses of that place. The number of failures there and elsewhere, in consequence of the magnitude of the speculations into which men entered, from the facility with which paper could be discounted, it was said, was daily augmenting; and the dread of its extent threw a gloom over the city, such as has not been witnessed for years.

The Statesman of the 27th, remarks that "the financial as well as the political face of the country appears peculiarly grave and interesting at this moment. Accounts from foreign markets are unpromising. It appears by letters from Liverpool, that 160 packages of British goods have been returned from New-Orleans, not finding a vent in America, owing to the high prices set upon them. We have not half the American merchants in England as some time back. They look into our manufactories, but purchase very little."

Advices from Gibraltar to the 12th of February state, that the plague was increasing its ravages on the coast of Africa; and that the emperor of Morocco had disbanded his army in consequence of the prevalence of the disease among the troops.

The British commercial treaty was published in the London Courier of Feb. 27th. It was received via Baltimore.

Letters from Madrid up to the 15th of Feb. state, that the report of a second attempt at revolt in Valencia, is without foundation. Gen. Elio was to retain the command of the troops in that quarter.

The king of Wirtemburgh has abolished the punishment of the gauntlet in his army.

Advices from St. Petersburgh to the 10th of February, state, that the Gulf of Finland was then as open for navigation as in the middle of summer; a circumstance never before known at that period of the winter. There was no appearance of ice in the roads of Narva.

At Tornea (lat. N. 65 50) where it is not unusual to find spirits of wine frozen, the winter has been so mild, that the thermometer has been at 5 and 6 degrees above the freezing point.

American Stocks, Feb. 25.—U. S. bank shares, par; three per cents 63¼ a 64; new six per cents 99 a 101, dividend from January 1st.

The following is an extract of a letter from a respectable house at Liverpool, dated on the 1st of March.

"We have accounts of a very heavy failure in London, whereby great embarrassment will be occasioned in the cotton trade, and several houses, both here and in Manchester, have also suspended payment.—Cotton is almost unsaleable; and it may be bought considerably below the nominal prices."

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

London, Saturday evn'g, Feb. 27, half past 7 o'clock

Yesterday, Consols for the 13th April were at one time as high as 76, but in consequence of farther sales, by the same parties who had been previously operating to the fall, a sudden decline took place to 74 5-8, and the recovery above that price never exceeded a ¼ per cent. This morning the market opened flat at 74 5-8 for April, and suffered a fall almost uninterupted by any fluctuations, down to 73 5-8, which is the lowest point Consols have reached since last October. They rose afterwards suddenly up to 74 3-8, and a bargain or two was done at 74½; but the market again gave way, and finally closed at 74. For money, the highest price of the day was 74 1-8, and the lowest 73. The Exchequer market was very flat, and it was at one time with difficulty bills could be sold. The lowest quotation we heard was 10s. discount, but money becoming more plentiful towards the close of the day, the prices were 6 to 8s discount——The East India Bonds, paying 4 per cent. The fall has been most rapid, on Wednesday the premium was 66 and to day they were done at 35.—The following are the concluding prices: navy 5 per cent. 104 1-8—4 per cent 93—red 73 5-8—consuls 73 3-8—do per acct. 74 1-8—bank long ann. 19 11-16—India Bonds 35 pm.—Ex. bills 6 8 Dis.—3½ per cent. 83¼.

It was currently reported on change to day, that Ministers had been twice out voted in the secret committee concerning the Bank restriction, and that this is one cause amongst others of the extraordinary depression the funds have lately undergone.

WESTMINSTER ELECTION.

To day, towards the close of the poll, the space in front of the hustings, as well as the different scaffoldings and platforms, were crouded to excess. Mr. Hobhouse, attended by Sir F. Burdett, appeared on the hustings a short time before 4 o'clock. Mr. Lamb, attended by Lord John Russell. Mr. Lambton, Mr, M'Donald and Mr. Lambton jun'r. soon after appeared, and were received with a mixture of applause and hiss-

es. At the state of the poll was declared as follows:

Hon. George Lamb,	3,663

Major Cartwright,	37

Extract of a letter, dated Liverpool, Feb. 27.

The demand for Tobacco has been principally confined to a few orders for shipment at low prices; the trade purchasing very sparingly, and only for their immediate wants.—The business done in Rice this week is confined to 130 bags good white Bengal sold by auction at 23s 3d per cwt. there were upwards of 700 bags offered, but the rest were rather inferior, and were withdrawn. There has been a continued dullness in our market for Grain during the week, all prices of wheat have again declined 2 to 3d per bushel. Oats are also to be bought on better terms, the supply being large, particularly of the interior qualities. American flour is dull of sale, and price barely supported. We have had some enquiry for American Clover-seed, both from the country dealers and for the Irish market, and further sales have been made at 8s per cwt. for good quality. The demand for Turpentine continues limited, as the distillers find a very slow sale for both Rosin and Spirits of Turpentine; a parcel of 420 barrels of fair quality was offered by auction, for which 12s 6d only was bid, and it was withdrawn at 15s per cwt. The only sale of Tar worthy of notice, was a parcel of 480 barrels Virginia at 15s 9d to 16s 6d, but as it was damaged, it affords no criterion of the market. In Quercitron Bark there is nothing doing. Our market for Pot Ashes continue much depressed, and the few sales that have been made are at a further decline of 1s per cwt. Pearls are so dull that our prices are wholly nominal.

We remain, respectfully, sir,
Your most obedient servants,
YATES BROTHERS & CO.

Extract of a letter, dated Liverpool, 27th February, 1819.

Two or three serious failures in the course of the week have led to some forced sales at very reduced prices, viz. 15d for good new Boweds, 14½d good fair old, 17½d down to 17d fair Maranhams, and some other kinds in proportion; being a decline from last week of 0½d in Boweds, about 0¼ in Orleans, 0¼d in Bengals, and Id a 1½d in Brazils. At this reduction some other holders have followed under the impulse of alarm, and the market may be considered as low at this moment as any period during the week, and considerably lower than it has before been since the year 1812.

The amount of our sales, of which about 800 may have to be resold here, is about 6700 bags; viz. 73 Sea Islands, 2s 8d good clean, 2s 9d fine do; and a very few fine 3s—16 very good stained do, 23d—348 Orleans, 15d middling, to 17d a 17½d good; a few small lots, fine 18d a 19½d—25 fair Tennessees, 13d a 14d—2083 Boweds, 14½d middling fair and good fair, to 15d a 16d good—1200 pernams, 19d a 21d—342 Bahias, 17 a 18½d—1475 Marankams, 17d a 18½d—60 fair Minas Geras, 15½d—74 Demeraras, 17½d a 19—50 Surats, 19½d and 10 good common—and 912 Bengals, 6¼d very middling common, to 8¼d good.

FROM INDIA.

By the brig Barbara, Capt. Nash, we have received Calcutta papers to the 2d of Dec.

Malacca was restored to the Dutch on the 21st of Sept.

A Spanish Revolutionary, frigate has carried a Spanish prize into Penang to be sold. The captain informed that several British and American vessels had been captured by the Royalists on the west coast of South America—among them the American ship Traveller, accused of trading with the Patriots.

A violent storm was experienced on the India coast, off Madras, on the 24th October; several British vessels were damaged. The Charlotte foundered—The Wanstead and Barkworth were missing. Three brigs and a ship were driven on shore. The American brig Neptune was at Madras when the storm commenced, but has since arrived at Calcutta.

Calcutta, Nov. 30.

The possesion of Castimere appears to have again excited the ambition of Runjeet Sing, and it is said that he has sent a considerable force in the direction of that delightful province.

The revolution which took place some time ago at Acheen, which terminated in placing the son of Syed Husseio, an opulent merchant at Penang, in the chief authority, may be within the recollection of our readers. Another revolution has been since effected, by which this usurper was expelled to Tullohsamaway, and the old sovereign reinstated.

We are sorry to learn that the epidemick still continues its ravages; and has appeared with considerable virulence at Rangoon.

The latest accounts from Ceylon are dated the 24th ult. and appear to justify the expectation excited by the previous intelligence from that Island. The Pretender, and the Chiefs who have been noticed in our former publications, had not however surrendered; but were hunted and pursued in all directions. The Kandyan territories, with few exceptions, were completely tranquilized.

In no other district but Weyalcowa is there a show of hostility, and resistance is there so feeble that we have no doubt our next details will bring us the complete pacification of that last retreat of insurrection.

CHINA SEAS.

The annexed letter was left by Lt. Daniel Ross, in the office of the American Consul at Canton, for the perusal of the American commanders, with a request that it might be published in the United States.—Lieut. R. who is surveying the China Seas by order of the British government, was accused by the officers of the Alceste frigate of having misled them, they having been wrecked in the very track he has laid down. The following is his reply, which has been handed to the editor of the Patriot, by Capt. Pawson, of the North Point.

Copy of a letter addressed to the Editors of public papers at the different residences in India, by Lieut. Daniel Ross.

On my return to this port, after a long absence on the duties of my survey, I found in the Asiatic Journal for September, 1817, a statement respecting the loss of his Majesty's ship Alceste so derogatory to my professional character, and injurious to the interest of commerce and navigation, by the misrepresentations in point of fact which it conveys, that I feel persuaded you will do me the justice of giving an equal degree of publicity, through your paper, to my explanation as to the crimination it conveys, a measure, the more necessary for me to require at your hands, that the injurious and unfounded assertions, (for so I must call them) are in the work so blended with the narrative respecting Capt. Maxwell's court martial, that it must appear to every reader (although not so expressed) that they had been brought forward as evidence, and admitted as proof, upon the occasion.

Extract.—"The ship had no more sail on her than enabled her to withstand an unfavorable strong current, and the very track she was pursuing was laid down for the ship by Lieut. Ross, of the Bombay marine, who had been surveying the China Sea for ten years."

When Captain Maxwell, in the end of January, 1817, and immediately previous to his quitting China, acquainted me with his purpose to take the passage by Gaspar Straits, I had not surveyed them, having only now returned from completing that duty. In reply to the reference for my advice which he honored me with, I could not speak from my own experience and investigation, but respecting the Sunken Rock four miles to the westward of Pulo Leat, that being the only point which I had examined in 1813, I furnished him with the best and latest charts of those straits, captain Lestock Wilson's; and besides that, a plan by Mr. H. Hall, master of his majesty's ship Orlando, of the west side of Pulo Leat, on which is clearly delineated the situation of a wreck of the Portuguese ship Amelia, lost there in the spring of 1816.—What I farther said, was to impress him with the necessity of care, when entering Gaspar Straits from the northward, because of the unexplored Magdalen shoal; to offer to him my advice, if the weather was thick, to get a sight of St. Barbes Island, and to regulate the ship's way, so as to discover Gaspar Island during the day time, and to pass to the eastward of it; guarding him, when shaping his course for the straits against a rapid current described by all accounts to set down on the N. W. point of Pulo Leat, to which current the loss of the Amelia was attributed. I further mentioned the having once, in the H. C. S. discovery, passed along the west side of Pulo Leat, in a track distant about three miles from that Island, when I had met with no danger.

Such was my communication to Captain Maxwell. Capt. Wilson's chart marks a three pronged reef, extending one and a quarter mile off the north point of Pulo Leat, with dangers on the west side to a mile and three quarters distance. Mr. Hall's plan describes the reefs on the western side, with the Amelia's wreck. With what justice can the track that was followed be said to have been pointed out by me? If what I said, of having met with no danger at three miles distance from the land, be construed into having pointed out a track, I must add, that had that direction been followed, a safe channel, and from seventeen to twenty five fathoms water, would have been found: but the fact is, that his majesty's ship Alceste was lost upon a well known reef, which I ascertained, by repeated and careful admeasurement, to be only one and one third geographical miles from the north end of Pulo Leat, and fifteen yards distant from the still very discernable wreck of the Portuguese ship Amelia (at least it was so in May last.) So far am I from being accountable, in any way, for the misfortune, that if Capt. Wilson's chart and Mr. Hall's plan (the documents furnished by me) had been relied on as guides, or had my verbal communications been attended to, they would all have equally served to avert the loss of his majesty's ship.

The preceding observations will also fully serve to answer to another publication in the Asiatic Journal, of Sept. 1817, said there to have been made by an officer to Mr. Horsburgh, in which the shipwreck is stated to have taken place in the "fair open channel."

The documents accompanying this, may remain with you, either for your justification, should this statement be called in question, or if that is suitable to your plan, for publication in your paper; especially, in so far as relates to the precise situation bearing, and distances, of particular points, from the wreck of the Alceste, and of the reef on which she was lost—I may add, that so far is the misfortune adverted to from having increased the difficulties of the navigation of Gaspar Straits (which impression Mr. Horseburgh's rather precipitate notice is calculated to convey) that with common care it will be as easy as that of any other outlet to the China Sea. I am sir your obedient servant,

(Signed) DANIEL ROSS,
Com'g. Bombay marine and Surveyor of the China Sea.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN.

The following Advertisement with the subjoined remarks were handed to us by a friend for publication.

Three hundred barrels of fine bolted FLOUR, manufactured at the Prairie du Chien, by a water mill, can be yearly furnished, on the most reasonable terms by the subscriber. JOS. ROLETTE.
Prairie du Chien, Dec. 1, 1818.

Prairie du Chien is a village of three or four hundred souls, at the confluence of the Quisconsin and the Mississippi, about five hundred miles above St. Louis. It took its origin about a century ago, under cover of the military post which the French government had established at that place.

The Aborigines were the stock from which the inhabitants grew; and at present it may be assumed as a fact, that the entire native population of the village is of Indian descent.

We had been familiar with the name of this village, and with its position on the map, but had thought little about the inhabitants, their genealogy, or condition in life, until an advertisement to sell flour, manufactured of wheat grown at Prairie du Chien, caught our attention, and put us upon the track of enquiry. It was then found, that here was a community of Aborigines, and their descendants, living in houses like white people, speaking the French language, rearing domestic animals, cultivating gardens and orchards, raising corn and wheat above their wants, offering bread to our troops, and furnishing a company of eighty men, who are enrolled among the militia of the U. States.

After all, these interesting facts might have passed off from the memory, without leading to any serious reflection or conclusion, had not the recommendation contained in the President's message revived the recollection of Mr. Crawford's plan for civilizing the aborigines of this continent.

That plan was given to the public two years ago. A class of wittling politicians immediately opened their paragraph batteries upon it, and some minds were found in every place vacant enough to laugh at what was new and strange to them. But happily, such men are not trusted, in republican governments, with the destiny of their species; and, while they laughed, considerate men were looking with pain upon the mortifying fact, that under the progress of the American government, whole nations of human beings had disappeared from the face of the earth—and reflecting with grief and shame, that the work of destruction must go on, until statesmen of an elevated order should rise up, to devise and interpose the means of salvation.

Mexico and South America present the spectacle of Indian families and their decendants living in towns and villages, among white people, and practising the arts of civilized life; and so does St. Louis, and every other town and village of Upper Louisiana, which owes its origin to the settlements of the French.

Reverting to Prairie du Chien, a question represents itself in the comparative depopulation of that village, (for it was once four times more populous than at present,) the answer to which may solve the difficulty of civilizing Indians. In the war of 1756. it had a population of fourteen or fifteen hundred souls; at present, about three or four hundred. The French were then their masters; the Americans now; and a multitude of deserted and mouldering habitations attest the fact of this depopulation, on a spot which is formed by nature to be prolific of life and of health! These are the facts; and the friends of an unfortunate race should enquire for the cause which has driven back into the woods, at the approach of the American eagle, the same people who had quit the forest to come and cluster themselves under the walls of a French fort.

Praire du Chien is at present the scite of an American post. Col. Chambers and Major Morgan of the rifle, under the auspices of General Smith, had the male inhabitants formed into a company of militia.—The offer to furnish 300 barrels of flour annually to the American troops, is a proof that the harmony of the village has been consulted by those officers, and that its condition is improving. No doubt, with proper encouragement, it will soon furnish the annual supplies to the fort at the Prairie, and the one which is about to be established at the falls of St. Anthony. The posts on the upper Missouri may in like manner derive their supplies from the Aboriginal inhabitants. The Mandans have furnished corn for forty years to the forts and factories of the British fur companies on the river Assinibain, and the lake Winipec. Doubtless they will do the same to the American forts in their neighborhood and at the mouth of the Yellow stone, if we are fortunate enough to avoid hostilities at the outset, and to gain their friendship by the mildness and generosity of our conduct.

MR. EDITOR,

It is almost melancholy to remark to what pitiful "SHIELDS" some men will resort to cover their dastardly and malevolent attacks—a mere "Barber's POLE.

To say that a person who has not to traverse "high latitudes," will find the pole, is truly barbarous geography. QUIZ.

Shad and Herrings

CAN be had, in any reasonable quantities, and at moderate prices, at the

White-House Fishery

of the Belvoir estate, on the river Potomac; and persons from the country, as well as water customers, are invited to that shore, where they may expect the best treatment, and every facility, in getting such supplies as they need, which that well known fishery, and the utmost attention of the subscriber, can afford. Having been long experienced in that business on the Delaware river, and having taken the fishery for several seasons, he has caused a complete outfit to be made, not only for taking Shad, as heretofore, but Herrings, of which it is well known that almost any number may be caught at that shore, when the gluts are in the river. A very complete and commodious fish-house, on the spot, may be made use of by persons disposed to put up fish extensively, and who bring barrels and salt for the purpose. A number of barrels, and a quantity of salt, may probably also be had at the fish-house. ——As the

at the mouth of Pohick Creek, on the same estate, is carried on this season by Mr. John Henderson, there will be the greater certainty that customers will not be disappointed in herrings, the two fisheries being near together: but country customers are cautioned not to come too early for herrings; as, of late years, they have several times done, and by returning home have missed of getting their supply, which afterwards was plentiful.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirious of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or

Notice,

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE,

Fairfax Court-House. Va.
